FSKTM

We would like to draw your attention to the 4th International Conference on Informatics and Technology (Informatics2011), which has currently an open call for papers whose deadline, is scheduled for Qevqdgt 42th. We hope you can participate in this conference by submitting a paper reflecting your current research in any of the following topics.

Informatics '11, one of the region's premier ICT events, will address a range of important topics with respect to using eco-friendly informatics and technologies to boost and promote innovations and quality research. These topics are inline with the conference's theme, that is, 'Green ICT towards Innovation and Quality Research'.

Topics

Topics covered by Informatics '11 include, but are not limited to:

- Green ICT and Resource Management – recycling and reusing ICT (including intangible assets such as software), and reducing wastage
- Cloud Computing and Networking – sharing resources and improving communication
- Software Engineering and Programming – providing design patterns for reusability, and improving usability of various technologies
- Power-aware Middleware and Software
- Green Service Science Management Engineering
- Security Issues Related to Green ICT
- Energy Efficiency Pervasive Computing and Large-Scale Distributed Systems
- Eco Friendly Data Center
- Modeling and Performance Evaluation of Green-ICT Solutions
- Intelligent Algorithms towards Eco-Friendly System
- Models of Service Systems for Eco-Friendly Systems
- Service Oriented Architecture and Technologies Towards Green Solution

Call for Papers

Please submit your Full Papers and Doctoral Symposium-one page of abstract, by August 31, 2011. See the Call for Papers here

Selected papers will be published in Malaysian Journal of Computer Science (ISSN 0127-9084) (SCIE, SSCI, A&HCI, CPCI-S, CPCI-SSH)

A "Best Paper Award" and a "Best Student Paper Award" will be conferred to the author(s) of a full paper presented at the conference, selected by the Conference Chairs based on the best combined marks of paper reviewing, assessed by the Program Committee, and paper presentation quality, assessed by session chairs at the conference venue.
